

Reference Object “LuMit in Ludwigshafen” Back-ventilated curtain facade, external thermal insulation composite system (ETICS), and flat roof insulation with insulation materials made of Neopor®

- LuMit - employee centre for work-life management
- Use of high-quality building materials to improve the sustainability of the building:
  - Low-emission materials
  - Assessed by German Sustainable Building Council (DGNB) criteria for health safety
- Taking into account initial investments and subsequent operational costs
- As a leading supplier of raw materials, systems, and end products for the construction industry, BASF develops solutions for sustainable construction

